

Money to Help Retarded Children

sured cash income for needy families picked up impressive support from business men as well as conservative economists — a development which, if more widely known, might have tempered the surprise of the skeptics.

Talk of a guaranteed annual income began to be heard increasingly in the middle 1960's. However, that phrase — which President Nixon and congressional backers of the plan still recoil from — was not universal. Instead, proponents talked about a negative income tax or children's allowances.

The idea of a negative income tax, although in a form quite different from what was finally sent to Congress, was advanced early by Milton Friedman, a University of Chicago economist. He became an adviser to Sen. Barry Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate, and later to Nixon.

The pure theory is that if citizens pay taxes on income above a certain level, it is appropriate to pay something to citizens whose income is below that level.

Children's allowances are not theory but fact in some 62 western nations. Ordinarily they are paid without regard to the financial status of the parents, thus avoiding the humiliation of a means test. As proposed for the United States, such tests would be coupled with income tax rates set so better-off families would repay all or part of the allowance.

An early and consistent advocate of children's allowances was Daniel P. Moynihan. This recurrently controversial Harvard liberal served President Lyndon B. Johnson as an assistant secretary of labor and reappeared in the Nixon administration as top White House aide on urban affairs.

Advocates of the various income assurance plans kept turning up before congressional committees. The response tended to be that, while their ideas were interesting, they were hopelessly opposed to the often-cited American Puritan ethic: Work for what you get.

But meanwhile dissatisfaction was mounting with the state-federal welfare system, which came to consist largely of Aid to Dependent Children, typically to fatherless families.

ESD Performs Work in Many Areas

Mrs. Leona Troxell, director of the Employment Security Division for the State of Arkansas, addressed the Hope Lions at the regular Monday noon luncheon at Town & Country.

Haskell Jones, program chairman, introduced Mrs. Troxell who described the work of the ESD. Mrs. Troxell said the department was much more than a hiring hall for the unemployed and spent more time on the lesser known function of the employment service, which spends a lot of time and effort in working with handicapped workers, members of minority groups and displaced workers.

She told of a plantation in eastern Arkansas that tore down 162 houses, displacing 162 families because of more modern methods of farming due to the slowdown in cotton farming.

The department is training displaced workers, testing them for their new skills, placing them and following through to see that the workers have no problems. Mrs. Troxell described the "Win" program as one that works at taking persons off the welfare rolls and training them to be self supporting. There are 27 ESD Offices over Arkansas' 75 counties.

Due to lack of space and staff the department is asking industry to do more of the interviewing of workers and hiring at the plant and that industry try out handicapped workers.

Teddy Jones of the local ESD office was a guest. Mrs. Lynn Harris was guest of her father, Paul Rawson, Lion Trussell had his son, Gene of Shreveport and son-in-law, Capt. Benny Taylor, recently returned from Germany, as his guests.

The following members of the Camden club were guests, Bill Humphries, Leo Graham, J.T. Urrey and Al Rose.

previous desegregation guidelines are still in force, existing policies on busing have not changed, and Southern cities will still be required to eliminate dual systems based on past policies or practices.

Finch said 1.2 million black children in the South are now attending schools with significant numbers of white pupils — double last year's 600,000 total.

"We think we can double that again next fall," he said. The secretary said the existing mix of court suits and administrative actions would be used to attain the desegregation goal for next fall.

Finch denied several times that any "backward motion" has struck his department and its desegregation efforts. He was questioned in the light of signs that Nixon's message had triggered new resistance to integration.

But he added later: "There will be fewer desegregation plans drawn and more monitoring." The department's office for civil rights both negotiates desegregation plans and helps monitor progress in school districts under court order.

government force numbered more than 1,000 troops, and reports from the field said their casualties were 10 South Vietnamese killed and 23 wounded.

U.S. Air Force fighter-bombers made scores of raids around the camp during the day-long fighting and U.S. B52s rained 300 tons of bombs on enemy targets five miles to the northwest.

South Vietnamese headquarters said air and artillery strikes killed 270 of the North Vietnamese. U.S. forward air controllers said they counted 102 enemy bodies.

The Saigon government's headquarters for the Central Highlands said at least 728 North Vietnamese have been killed since the enemy laid siege to the camp last Wednesday. Sources said government losses so far are 40 killed and 133 wounded. One American Green Beret has been killed and six wounded in ground fighting, while nine U.S. airmen have been killed and four wounded in three Air Force transports and three helicopters that were shot down.

South Vietnamese headquarters said more than 3,000 government troops and about 30 American "advisers" are now operating in and around the camp. This includes 400 reinforcements flown in late Monday.

The size of the North Vietnamese force is not known. started by careless campers, by persons burning off their land, or by arsonists.

rate of 30 per cent of what they got in the last school year because of delays in enacting an appropriation bill for the Department of Health, Education and Welfare. He said recent passage of the HEW bill released the other 10 per cent and added 13 per cent more.

The bill also provides $53,671 in Title I funds for the Arkansas Schools for the Blind and Deaf, the State Hospital, the state Tuberculosis Sanatorium and the University of Arkansas Medical Center. Another $162,613 was allocated for the state training schools and $492,000 for school district migrant programs.

These allocations are substantially what they were in the last fiscal year.

Another 1 per cent was added for the Education Department's administration of the Title I program.

I think we will have the discussions within the framework of NATO on the strategic necessities, including the role played by the United States. . . .

I foresee possibly a time during the years ahead for us where we may be able to discuss mutually balanced force reductions. But the interest in this might be reduced if we move towards unilateral reductions instead of having made it a subject of serious negotiations.

Q. The U.S. government has said it will not reduce troop strength before the middle of 1971. From your point of view, is it conceivable that some reduction—Secretary of State William Rogers once used the term "small reduction"—might be made, without impairing the basic strength in Europe?

A. Before answering that let me say I understand and most of the responsible people in my country understand that this is a matter of concern in the United States to be engaged in Europe as much as one is 25 years after the end of World War II and that we have to envisage some changes during the time ahead of us.

I would not exclude marginal modifications, but I think there is not much sense in discussing it in any detail. I think the problems now should be discussed, and I also think that is not mainly a problem of bilateral talks between the U.S. government and my own government. Even if most of the American troops in Europe are stationed on West German soil, it really is a problem for the alliance (NATO) as such. . . .

Q. Do you see a link between this troop level problem and the U.S.-Soviet talks on strategic weapons limitations (SALT) which are opening again?

A. Well, as I said, SALT is, of course, the most important subject now under discussion between NATO and the Soviet Union. But we have other elements there. We have our talks, we have the Berlin talks which have just started again.

What I mean to say is this: It should be possible during talks of this kind at various levels to find out if the Soviet Union would be inclined—because it has problems in other parts of the world, because it also has economic problems, as we have ours—to enter into a discussion of the question how the alliances should be organized or how strong they should be in the center of Europe.

I do not expect at this time that the talks on a limitation of strategic weapons immediately would widen so they would cover many other grounds but I still think that one cannot separate the problem of strategic weapons completely from the larger problem of all kinds of interdependencies between nuclear weapons and conventional forces.

Q. How serious a problem for the future is the issue of Germany making offset purchases in the U.S. or making other financial arrangements to help balance the U.S. troop costs in Germany? And do you expect to discuss this with Mr. Nixon?

A. I think this will not be a main subject in my discussions with the President. It may be that these subjects may already have been discussed by my own

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Post Office Committee voted unanimously today for a bill to provide a 6 per cent retroactive pay increase for all federal civil service workers.

The action sends the bill to the Senate, where early action is expected.

In a 12-0 roll call vote, committee members also voted to extend the pay raise to Capitol Hill employees, to District of Columbia judges and to the staffs of former presidents.

Chairman Gale McGee, D-Wyo., said the pay raise measure—which was attached to a House-passed civil service bill—could receive congressional clearance by the end of the week.

A pay raise retroactive to last Dec. 27 was agreed on in negotiations between administration officials and representatives of seven postal unions following a widespread strike of post office employees.

McGee said the measure was not tied to the Nixon administration's proposal to increase the pay of postal workers an additional 8 per cent after Congress acts on post office reform—another part of the strike-ending agreement.

Republican leaders said after meeting with President Nixon that congressional approval of a 10-cent letter rate Nixon proposed should be considered along with the pay raises.

Rockefeller Announcement Unlikely Soon

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — William G. Conley, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's press secretary, says the governor is not expected to announce his decision about running for a third term at his news conference Wednesday.

Another source was quoted as saying he did not think the governor had made up his mind that it might be two or three weeks before Rockefeller's announcement.

Minister of Defense during his talks with Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird. You see, the off-set agreement we have now . . . will end June 30, 1971. I do not think that we should enter into new discussions, we should start early enough so we do not get a vacuum

I think, the principles of burden sharing also should be dealt with within the framework of NATO and not just be made a bilateral German-American problem. Also for the reason that one needs first a policy and then has to discuss the problem of how to finance an agreed policy, and not the other way around. This problem of the policy of NATO cannot be made a bilateral problem, it has to include all of our partners. But in addition, certain problems have to be discussed bilaterally.

All Aldermen Have to Run by Positions

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Mayor Robert Cope of Forrest City was informed Monday that aldermen must run by positions in both the primary and general elections.

Deputy Atty. Gen. Henry Giniger wrote Cope that an elected code bill passed by the legislature repeals any provision in Act 45 of 1969 that conflicts with it.

Act 45 of 1969 says the two candidates in a ward who receive the most votes in a general election are elected aldermen. The election code bill, however, requires candidates for alderman to run by position. The election code law also provides that the candidate receiving the most votes in each position is elected.

Kennedy Case Jury Makes No Findings

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (AP) — The Dukes County grand jury adjourned today after a special session without making any findings in its investigation of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's auto accident last July.

After the grand jury had been in session today only three-quarters of an hour, the foreman, Leslie H. Leland told the court, "we have no presentment to make" and Judge Wilfred J. Paquet adjourned the session.

The grand jury session had been called at the urging of the foreman to investigate the death of Miss Mary Jo Koepchne, 28, found dead of drowning in Sen. Kennedy's car after it plunged into a tidal pool last July 18.

When the grand jury returned to the courtroom shortly before 11 a.m. EST Judge Paquet again ordered the clerk to call the roll of the 10 men and 10 women present for this session.

Then the clerk, Mrs. Sophia Campos, asked: "Mr. Foreman, do you have any presentment to make?"

"No, I have no presentment," said Leland.

Judge Paquet interrupted.

"Well, has the grand jury any presentment to make, stand up, Mr. Foreman," Paquet said.

Rising, Leland said: "No, we have no presentment."

"Mr. Foreman and members of the grand jury, having completed your business I will excuse you," Paquet said.

"I remind you again of the need for secrecy," Paquet said.

Judge Paquet told the jurors that while they still were members until their year's term runs out next month that they had finished their duties.

He thanked the grand jury members and excused them.

Forest Fires Hit Locksburg, Waldo Areas

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Associate State Forester Jim Talley says 44 fires burned more than 1,000 acres of Arkansas timberland Monday.

Talley said three separate fires had consumed 400 acres near Heber Springs and that two fires near Salem covered about 200 acres.

Talley also said 120 acres had burned near Waldo, 100 acres at Traskwood, 80 acres near Hibdon, 75 acres near Junction City and 60 acres at Locksburg.

Talley said no injury was reported among the 500 firefighters.

He also said 60 fires had been reported Saturday and that they burned more than 1,000 acres. He said most of the fires were

Think you can't afford an Olds? Here are two reasons to think again!

Our own surveys indicate that quite a few people think an Olds costs a lot more than it really does. Result? Many people buy an ordinary car and end up with a lot less car and value for their money.

It's so unnecessary, too, because Oldsmobile has many models that are priced right down with so-called low-priced cars. See your Olds dealer. He'll prove that you're closer to Olds than you think.

Oscar Show to Feature Liz, Big Diamond

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The movie academy stages its 42nd annual Oscar awards presentation tonight and it's likely one of the most emotional and star-studded ever.

Besides a galaxy of contenders, 17 stars—against last year's 10—will present the statuette.

Among them is Elizabeth Taylor, wearing the $1.05 million diamond given her by husband Richard Burton, a nominee for best actor honors. Another presenter will be John Wayne, himself nominated for "True Grit."

The two-hour program from the Los Angeles Music Center will be aired over ABC-TV starting at 10 p.m. EST. In the first satellite transmission, the show will be seen live in Brazil and Chile.

The academy estimates at least 200 million persons in 40 countries will see the ceremonies live or by delayed broadcast.

The honors have been secretly voted by the 3,100 members of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

Leading with nominations in 10 categories, including best picture, was the historical drama "Anne of the Thousand Days."

Challenging it for best film of 1969 was "Midnight Cowboy," the seamy life of a Texas drifter and a Manhattan bum.

"Hello, Dolly!," "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" and "2" also were nominated for the best picture award.

Favored among best actor nominees, in pre-award speculation, were the durable Wayne and the six-times nominated Burton, up for "Anne of the Thousand Days." Burton has

Mrs. Faubus May Run for Governor

By HARRY KING

Associated Press Writer
HUNTSVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Mrs. Alta Faubus, Arkansas' First Lady for 12 years, says she may enter the race for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

"I've been getting some encouragement," she said, "And, I've been giving it consideration."

"I've been receiving encouragement from people you'd be surprised at," said the former wife of former Gov. Orval E. Faubus. "A lot of women have wanted me to enter. At first, I didn't think much of it, but I feel strongly about it really."

"I'm just not sure I want to get into something like that," she said. "For the sake of the state, I'd like to see a woman elected. I'm interested in a woman being elected because I think women are more interested in people. If I were elected governor, I think I would put a few more women in government."

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell and Robert C. Compton, an El Dorado attorney, have officially entered the race.

Others, including Faubus, are said to be considering the race. "There has been no one mentioned yet that I could wholeheartedly support," she said. She also said she didn't believe her former husband would be any more difficult to defeat than the other candidates.

Mrs. Faubus and the former governor were married 37 years before their divorce was finalized in March 1969.

Mrs. Faubus said that if she decides to run she probably would draw support from a broad base.

"I think I could get some of the male vote," she said. "But I'd get a bigger percentage of the women's vote. I think I would get support from just about every area. I don't know of any enemies I have in particular."

What are her chances of winning? "I feel like this year there may be a field full and most any good candidate will have a chance to be elected," she said.

She also said financing would not be a problem.

"I wouldn't look to any special interest groups to finance me," she said. "I think the people would do it with contributions. I'm very sincere and conscientious and I think people know it."

She said several persons had told her that Faubus might not have won a sixth term in 1964 if it had not been for her help. Mrs. Faubus, 57, says she would rather a younger woman run for governor, but adds that Mrs. George Romney, 60, is running for the U.S. Senate in Michigan.

"And, you know, I've had a little experience in politics," she said.

The oldest member was holding forth as usual. This time, he was discussing the various forms of bridge insanity. He said that mild slamomania could be cured by superb dummy play but a man with virulent slamomania, combined with a low dummy-play quotient, should be permanently barred from the bridge table.

Here is a case in point. South wasn't the worst dummy player in the world but he would rate well-down toward the bottom on any scale.

His two-club response would not meet with general approval but, once he got started, we can't find any fault with his bids of three and four clubs. As a matter of fact, his six-club bid was a good one since the contract should make. Of course, North was looking at three aces and two kings and undoubtedly would have bid six himself if he hadn't had previous experience with his partner's mangling of the dummy.

West opened the king of diamonds. South gazed at dummy for a second with what was supposed to be serious study. Then he rose with the diamond ace, cashed dummy's king of clubs and led a small diamond toward his hand. East ruffed with the queen of clubs and at this point South tied the Olympic record for slam-chucking by winning with his ace. Then he led a club to West's jack.

West played another diamond and South proceeded to play out his clubs, slowly, carefully, but ineffectively. There was no squeeze and South was down one.

How much simpler if he had just discarded a heart at trick two. After that play, it would have been almost impossible to lose another trick.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

WHEN IT'S CRUEL TO KEEP M. A SECRET

Dear Helen: My best friend is running away from home. She doesn't want her folks to know she is having a baby, and she won't marry the father, even if she could. He says he'll give her enough money to live on and she is going to get into a home for unwed mothers. After that, she'll get a job and just disappear. She doesn't get along with her family, so she figures they won't care. They aren't really that bad.

I will be the only person who knows where she is. But if I don't tell, and the police question me, then what?—GAIL

Dear Gail: I think your friend is planning the cruelest kind of "revenge" on parents who perhaps don't deserve it. Tell her you'll help any way you can, but you won't leave them hanging. Read on, and perhaps you'll agree with me.—H.

Dear Helen: When you have a beautiful daughter you're so proud of her it's a joy just to see her smile. Maybe we didn't let her know, or maybe we tried in all the wrong ways. Maybe we were afraid of her beauty. I wish I had the chance to try again.

Three days after her 16th birthday she disappeared. She is gone, taken away by strange ugly things like drugs and wildness we don't understand.

We don't know what awful things are happening to our girl. Will we ever see her alive again? Will she ever let us know where she is?

Will the children she always wanted so much be normal? Will the drugs she started taking a year ago affect her body and mind?

Our Joan has been missing since Jan. 13. She went to school that morning and never came home again. She left no note. Her so-called friends don't talk. Everywhere, we're met with a blank wall. Each night we pray that somehow she'll be returned to us. The sadness inside the hurt doesn't diminish as the days pass into months. The tears don't stop. The awful wonder of what we did wrong, and what terrible things are happening to her never leaves us. God is supposed to be merciful. Why doesn't he take me and let our Joan come home?—A HEART-BROKEN MOTHER

Dear Helen: This is an answer to the long-haired guys who compare themselves with great men of history who had beards and such.

These great men didn't make it because of their long hair or their style of clothes. They would have been great no matter how they dressed, for they had it in them.

These men of the past lived in times of hardships. It was easier—and warmer—to have a beard, what with no instant hot water, no electric razor, etc. Their styles weren't from protests but from necessity.—A.G.

Old Man of Knicks Leads Team to Win

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Dick Barnett, the wondrous Old Man of the New York Knicks, was skirting friendly, verbal pokes about his age and stamina.

"It's performance that counts, not my age," said the National Basketball Association veteran who's on the verge of 34. "I believe I've still got five more years in this league."

Believe, believe. He looked as agile as a startled gazelle Monday night, scoring 29 points to pace New York's 127-114 victory over Baltimore that gave the Knicks their Eastern Division semifinal series, four games to three.

The victory, before a rowdy full house of 19,500 at Madison Square Garden, shot the Knicks into the Eastern finals against Milwaukee. The best-of-7 series starts Saturday afternoon in New York.

Phoenix, holding a 3-2 edge in the best-of-7 Western semifinals with Los Angeles, hosts the Lakers in the only NBA action tonight.

Barnett, guarded by Baltimore's magnificent Earl Monroe, admittedly went for the basket often "to try to put Monroe on defense more . . . and maybe affect his offensive game."

Monroe wound up with a game-high 32 points, but his performance wasn't enough to offset the Knicks' well-balanced effort that had Barnett crowing, "It was a heck of a team game."

The Knicks' Willis Reed agreed: "We came to play, asking ourselves if we wanted to start our vacations early . . . or continue the playoffs."

"It was the best all-around game we've played in the playoffs. I wasn't going so well, so Guy hit others who had the hot hand."

Dave DeBusschere, the Knicks' graceful forward, was one of them. He scored 29 points, 18 in the second half as the Knicks blew Baltimore off the court.

Most of the players pointed to the ear-splitting, partisan roars as a factor.

Coach Red Holzman of New York summed it up succinctly: "Our crowd beat their crowd, four games to three."

Death Claims Courageous Cage Player

By JOHN W. CHACE
CINCINNATI (AP) — A long, "courageous" battle has ended for former National Basketball Association star Maurice Stokes who had lived basketball from his hospital bed since being stricken by encephalitis in 1958.

"He was always watching or listening to games," Jack Twyman, Stokes' guardian and one-time teammate said of the "Mighty Mo" who died Monday from a heart attack. "We talked a lot about the days when he was an active player."

Stokes, 36, was named the NBA's rookie of the year in the 1955 season when he played for the old Rochester Royals who moved to Cincinnati in 1958. He was headed toward becoming one of the sport's greats when he was stricken following an injury in a game.

Encephalitis, a brain injury, left him paralyzed and bedridden most of the time but he managed to regain the ability to feed himself, write and type.

"You'll never know, meet or read about anybody as courageous as Maurice," Twyman said. "I never heard the man complain in 12 years of lying on his back."

Player May Be Picketed at Augusta

By WILL GRIMSLEY
AP Special Correspondent
AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — The caddy who has carried Gary Player's bags for the past nine years abruptly shifted to another bag today amid growing rumors of threatened demonstrations against the South African star in the Masters golf tournament this weekend.

The caddy, Ernest Nipper, didn't say why.

A fellow caddy said the reason was that Nipper had been warned by a militant activist group, which has made veiled threats against Player because of his country's apartheid policies.

Player was asked the reason for the change.

"Nipper isn't caddying for me this year—I have a new caddy," he said. He declined to elaborate.

Asked the name of his new boy, the South African shrugged and replied, "It's a local boy."

The local boy is Carl Jackson, a stringbean regular at the Augusta National Club.

"I know nothing of no threats," said Jackson. "No body's said anything to me."

Fred Bennett, the caddy master, acknowledged that the change was a bit irregular but declined to comment on it. "I'll have to ask Nipper," he said.

He said Nipper's case is different because Nipper is a traveling caddy. Most of the Masters caddies are local boys. Nipper was assigned the bag of Chi Chi Rodriguez.

Meanwhile, despite efforts to play down and cool the situation, an atmosphere of tension prevailed at the normally serene Masters, renowned for its relaxed southern setting.

Every time Player strikes a ball or walks from green to the next tee, a cordon of uniformed Pinkerton security police may be seen forming a protective circle around him.

They try not to be obvious, but they can't help it.

One young cop always at his elbow has a mustache and long sideburns. He admitted Player was his personal responsibility. There are others equally responsible.

How many?
"I'm not permitted to say," one of the cops said. "But how many do you see?"

At least a half-dozen, guns on hips, stood by menacingly.

"I think you'll find a few plain clothesmen around also," one of the security officers said.

When Player finished Monday's practice round, shooting a sparkling 67, he was hustled into one of the private rooms at the club where he went into a brief conference with Masters' officials.

Nobody would divulge the purpose of the secretive meeting.

"I have no comment," a disturbed Player said. "I think it would be better if this whole thing were dropped. I am not mad at anybody. I love everybody—regardless of race or religion."

At the PGA championship last year in Daytona, Ohio, a demonstrator tossed a cup of ice in Player's face. There also was a scuffle on one of the greens.

There were rumors of threats when Player rejoined the tour this spring in Florida, but so far there has been no incident. He had a trench-coated security guard in Miami.

Player, winner here in 1961, is one of the top favorites this week. He won the $36,000 first prize in the Greater Greensboro Open Sunday.

Ky, native who took one of his rare week's off just prior to the Masters to rest.

"I'm playing a lot better than I have in some time," he said. "Maybe not as good as I'd like to, but better."

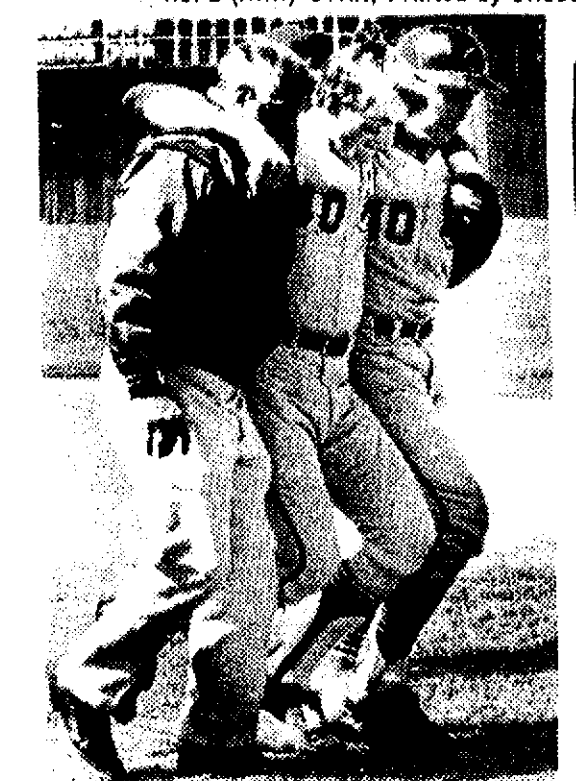

"Yes, you could say I'm gunning for this one. It's not that I'm doing anything differently, but with the accomplishments I was fortunate enough to achieve last year, well, winning a major title or possibly the Vardon Trophy is about all that's left."

Hill, sporting a new pair of granny, wire-rimmed glasses—"It's a whole new world for ol' Davy out there now that he can see it"—has been in Augusta since Friday sharpening his considerable skills.

"The ball is coming off the club just about the way I want it to, now," said Hill, one of the game's greatest perfectionists. "It's not 100 per cent yet, maybe, but it's coming around. I've always faded the ball. For a while there, I was hitting it left. When you aim it left, then hit it left, well, sometimes it's pretty hard to find."

"But now it's coming off the way I want it."

Hawks Win the Prince of Wales Trophy

By JOE MOOSHILL
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Black Hawks bid adieu to the Eastern Division of the National Hockey League by winning the Prince of Wales Trophy.

Now they would like nothing better than to take the Stanley Cup with them when they become members of the Western Division under the Expansion program of the 1970-71 season.

"We're not going over there as second rate citizens," crowed general manager Tommy Ivan following the Hawks' 10-2 victory over Montreal Sunday night to give them the Eastern Division crown.

The Hawks, who became the first team in NHL history to climb from last to first, haven't won the Stanley Cup since 1961.

They won the Prince of Wales trophy and the NHL title in 1967 but were knocked out in the opening round of the playoffs. They are determined on giving it a better shot this time when they open the playoffs at home Wednesday and Thursday nights against Detroit.

"This club is ready," said Stan Mikita. "Three years ago I was more elated and we had a bigger celebration because it was the first time we had won the championship. This time we'll hold off the big celebration for later."

"The last time we won it big," continued Mikita. "When the playoffs started, we were flat and Toronto didn't have much trouble with us. But this year we've had to battle all the way. We're mentally sharp and in good shape physically, too."

Bobby Hull, who like Mikita is a holdover from the 1961 Stanley Cup champions, feels the Hawks can go all the way this time.

"This is the greatest team I've ever played with," said the Golden Jet. "We might have had better individuals in other years but for hustle, spirit and pride this has to be one of the greatest teams in league history."

ABA Giving Aid to Miami Franchise

NEW YORK (AP) — The American Basketball Association is giving temporary financial aid to its Miami franchise while the Floridians undergo reorganization.

This disclosure was made Monday night by ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph, who also said the ABA and the National Basketball Association are again conducting talks which could lead to an eventual merger.

Dolph said the reorganization of the Miami team should be "completed next week and it is not known at this point how the Floridians' ownership will be constituted."

His brief statement concluded by saying: "The ABA has no plans to move the Floridians to another location."

In response to questions, Dolph said "we are exploring" the possibility of converting the Floridians into a regional franchise, "looking at such towns as Jacksonville, Orlando, Tampa and St. Petersburg. It is our intention to keep the base of operations in Miami."

He also said there was a possibility the New Orleans franchise would be shifted elsewhere because the Buccaneer owners are interested in selling if they can't raise additional capital by taking in more partners. He confirmed that Salt Lake City and Kansas City were prime contenders for the Bucs if

New Porker Cage Coach Hopeful

By JIM MCCALL
Associated Press Writer
FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Lanny Van Eman, who came from a family of professional athletes, cast to the winds two pro athletic contracts on the course to becoming the head basketball coach at the University of Arkansas.

Van Eman, who at 30 already has about eight years of college basketball coaching under his belt, said in an interview that coaching a major college team was much more exciting than playing professional ball.

A native of McKees Port, Pa., Van Eman graduated in 1962 from Wichita State University where he was named to the Look Magazine and Helms Foundation All-American basketball squads. He was honorable mention All-American on the 1962 Associated Press team.

Van Eman was a third-round draft choice of the Syracuse Nationals of the National Basketball Association in 1962, but also was drafted by the New York Yankees baseball organization. He decided to play with the Yankees.

Van Eman said his decision to go into baseball instead of basketball was based partly on his family background. His father played for the New York Giants' organization in the 1920s and his brother, Bob, played in the Texas League in the 1950s.

Another reason for choosing baseball, Van Eman said, was money. "With the bonus that the Yankees offered, I couldn't afford not to go into baseball," he said.

Van Eman played for Idaho Falls, Idaho, in the Yankee farm system during the summer of 1962.

That same year he was asked by Coach Ralph Miller, who was then head basketball coach at Wichita, to join the coaching staff there.

"I didn't have as good a year as I thought I should have playing baseball," Van Eman said. "I was discouraged . . . I never played in college when I didn't hit .315 or better, but that year with the Yankee organization I hit under .280."

"But before I decided to go into coaching, I had to get pro basketball out of my system," he said. Van Eman said he went to Syracuse but "they only offered me $7,500 and that discouraged me with pro basketball."

In late 1962, Van Eman told Miller that he would accept the assistant basketball and head baseball coaching jobs at Wichita.

"After I committed myself on the job at Wichita, I learned in December of 1962 that I had been drafted by the Milwaukee Braves," he said.

It was a hard decision to make, Van Eman said, "but Coach Miller had gone to bat for me so that I could get the job at Wichita, and since I had already committed myself to him, I decided to stay at Wichita. Besides in pro ball people are expendable . . . my security was much better in coaching."

Van Eman became assistant coach under Miller in late 1962. He termed those months in late 1962 and hear 1963 as the "turning point" in his life.

While with Miller, he handled recruiting and scouting. He also played a large part in the rebuilding of the Wichita basketball program and later when he and Miller moved to Iowa they rebuilt the Iowa program.

Van Eman said that the situation at Iowa was similar to that at Arkansas. "The team record was about the same . . . even the size and population of Iowa was close to that of Arkansas," he said.

Nixon Turns Out for 1st Baseball Game

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
A Nixon and Eisenhower graced the Washington roofing section, Ted Williams barked encouragement from the dugout and a micro-skirted cutie hugged Frank Howard at home plate.

With that kind of support, how could the Senators miss? Detroit's Mickey Lolich had the answer, but he was keeping it a secret Monday after taming the Senators 5-0 in the American League's traditional season opener—to the dismay of late-arriving President Nixon, first-ball pitcher David Eisenhower, the curvy Howard-hugger and a chilled Washington crowd of 45,015.

"I worked on a new pitch and I threw it a lot today," said the Tigers' stocky left-hander, who scattered seven hits and struck out 10 in a rain-delayed, three hours and 43 minutes marathon. "I call it the classified pitch."

Pressed for elaboration, he said: "I refuse to answer on the grounds the hitters may incriminate me."

While Lolich, subbing for suspended Tiger ace Denny McLain, was planning Washington with its eighth straight opening day loss, Cincinnati gave new Manager Sparky Anderson a solid sendoff by triumphing Montreal 5-1, behind southpaw Jim Merritt's three-hitter in the national League opener.

"I just sat on the bench and enjoyed a nice relaxed time," Anderson said after watching Merritt hold the Expos hitless for 6 1-3 innings and the Reds' Lee May, Bob Toian and rookie Bernie Carbo rock Montreal's Joe Spina for fourth inning home runs.

All the other clubs were set to play today, with the exception of the St. Louis Cardinals, who open Wednesday at Montreal.

Tom Seaver got the starting call for the world champion New York Mets at Pittsburgh against the Pirates' Steve Blass. Baltimore's American League defenders opened at Cleveland, with Dave McNally pitching against the Indians' Sudden Sam McDowell.

The Chicago Cubs were at Philadelphia, Atlanta at San Diego, Houston at San Francisco and Cincinnati at Los Angeles in other NL action.

Milwaukee's new American League club, the Seattle Pilots, entertained California while Oakland was at Kansas City, Minnesota at the Chicago White Sox, Boston at the New York Yankees and Detroit at Washington.

With Nixon detained at the White House because of a key Senate vote on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell and Vice President Agnew also unavailable, young Eisenhower was assigned to throw out the first ball.

After a 55-minute rain delay the President's son-in-law flipped a bopper from his box seat to the first base line, where Senators' outfielder Hank Allen made the catch. Allen also caught Nixon's first toss a year ago.

When Howard came to bat in the bottom of the first, Morgana Roberts, an exotic dancer, bolted from the stands and embraced the towering Washington slugger. She had made a similar unscheduled foray last summer at Atlanta, planting a kiss on the Braves' Cleto Boyer as he went to the plate.

Thus fortified, Howard a losing ball team at Iowa into an undefeated one this past season and tied for the Big Ten championship. The team played before a full house at every home game and all tickets for the season began.

Van Eman said he hopes he can do as well with the Razorbacks as he and Miller did at Wichita and Iowa. He said if he does "I think the road I took will be justified."

$43,371 in 4 Weeks Netted by Player

NEW YORK (AP) — Gary Player's gold prospecting on the fairways of this nation has netted him $43,371 in four weeks. The pint-sized pro from South Africa, winner of the $36,000 first prize in the Greater Greensboro Open Sunday, has vaulted to fifth place on the money list, the PGA's Tournament Player Division reported.

Assistant Elevated by Baltimore Colts

BALTIMORE (AP) — After considering 28 applicants, the Baltimore Colts have elevated assistant Don McCafferty to the head coaching job. Owner Carroll Rosenbloom, who ended six weeks of speculation with the announcement Monday, said the most difficult problem was deciding which "highly qualified" assistant to promote. Rosenbloom, who rejected applications from three head coaches in the National Football League, said McCafferty should view the delay as a compliment. McCafferty, 49, an offensive aide with the Colts for 11 seasons, replaces Don Shula, who resigned Feb. 18 to become head coach, general manager and part owner of the Miami Dolphins. McCafferty said he was satisfied with the one-year contract which he signed, terms of which were not disclosed.

No Team But Banquet Was Held Anyway

SEATTLE (AP) — The second-annual Seattle Pilots' Welcome Luncheon went off without a hitch here Monday, although the team was in Milwaukee.

Fifteen die-hard baseball fans jammed the spacious grand ballroom of the Olympic Hotel here on the theory that just because the team had abandoned Seattle to become the Milwaukee Brewers, it shouldn't spoil the party.

The Seattle Pilots were to have opened their home season against the California Angels Tuesday, until a bankruptcy court ruling allowed the sale of the American League baseball club to Milwaukee. "I'm still holding a reservation for 34 rooms from the California Angels," said Norm Layvin of the hotel.

Cullenward Wins Sudden Death Playoff

MYRTLE BEACH, S. C. (AP) — Nelson Cullenward of the San Francisco Examiner, 56-year-old left-hander won the Golf Writers Association of America golf championship Monday in a sudden death playoff. He defeated 26-year-old Barry McDermott of the Cincinnati Inquirer on the first extra hole after each had shot 74 at the Dunes Beach and Golf Club course. The writers play the annual 18-hole event on their way from the Greater Greensboro Open Tournament in North Carolina to the Masters in Augusta, Ga. McDermott had forced the playoff when he holed a 40-foot chip shot for a birdie on No. 18. Cullenward also won in 1964 and has been runner-up twice. McDermott, Ed Seaman of the Fayetteville (N. C.) Observer, and Dick Slay of the Washington Star had low net 69s in the handicap competition.

Young Plans to Contest Election

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Mitchell Young of Texarkana, national president of Freedom Inc., said Monday he would contest Saturday's school board election in which he was beaten by J. C. Crowover on a vote of 3,206 to 3,115. "We've got the election won," Young said. "I'm not defeated. We are contesting the election. We have found multiple irregularities." "According to our poll watcher, Wade Fowler, a number of Negroes brought in sample ballots to look at while they voted and this is illegal," Young said. "Some persons were allowed to vote whose names were not on the voter registration list. The Monday. Player is one of four foreign players on the top 10 money list this week. The others are Bruce Devlin and Bob Stanton, both Australians, and England's Tony Jacklin. Lee Trevino continued to lead the money list with $84,272, followed by Dick Lotz with $64,521; Bob Lunn, $55,326; Delvin, $47,119; Player; Jacklin, $38,725; Miller Barber, $38,091; Stanton, $37,542; Mike Hill, $34,915 and Dale Douglass $34,816. Seven of the top 10 money winners have won tournaments. The non-winners are Jacklin, Miller and Stanton.

CALENDAR OF EVENTS

The Youth Choir of Bethel A. M. E. Church will meet for rehearsal tonight at 6 p.m. All members are urged to be present. Sunday is YOUTH DAY at Bethel. The young people will have charge of the entire service under the direction of the minister and adults. Arthur Williams will be the youth lay speaker; Roger Hicks, Jr., will bring the invocation; Larry Muldrew will be co-ordinator and conduct the order of the service. The youth choir will present special music under the direction of Mrs. E. L. Hicks, church organist and administrative musician, and Mrs. W. C. Lowe, minister of music. The senior choir will not meet this week. Rev. W. G. Wynn, Pastor.

The Woods Sisters of Malvern, will sing at Bethel A. M. E. Church Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. This program is being sponsored by Mrs. Ruby Williams. The public is invited to attend.

To members of Cavehill Cemetery Association: Its time for your 1970 dues. Please make checks and money orders to Cavehill Cemetery Association and sent to P.O. Box 298, Hope, Ark.

For pickup, you may call 7-3589 or 7-3469. Someone will wait on you.

Individuals who were drunk went outside the building and came back in. Some individuals took ballots into a kitchen area that was not a voting area and many people milled around in the voting area intimidating other voters.

Young also said his defeat would not hurt the organization he founded even though believing he put the fate of the organization on the line by seeking the school board post.

Young said the election "was a completely corrupt election and this was not J. C. Crowover versus Mitchell Young." He said it was "the local corrupt establishment together with the federal government, the Model Cities program and the OEO in an attempt to stop conservatism and Freedom Inc., because if they could do this, they could hurt conservatism in America."

"We expect to win this lawsuit and we expect to reveal the many illegal tactics used by the opposition that violated the rules of the Texas election code," Young said. "When the truth is all out, I think it will greatly strengthen Freedom Inc.," Young said. "It hasn't hurt our organization at all. They were just trying to crush me and Freedom Inc. It not only will not hurt us, it will help us."

MISS SCA—Donna Connelly of Hope won the Miss State College of Arkansas beauty crown and the honor representing SCA at the Miss Arkansas Pageant in the summer. Miss Connelly, sponsored by Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Connelly. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority. First runnerup was Deborah Lynn Vantrease of Malvern.

Americans Win Alpine Ski Races

ROVANIEMI, Finland (AP) — Americans won Alpine ski races Monday at the World University Games.

Rosie Fortna of Warren, Vt., was clocked in 98.88 seconds over a 1,550-meter 54-gate course, adding points toward the giant slalom title. Karen Korfanta of Pinedale, Wyo., was second with a 99.88 time.

Hockey League Rulers to Plan Playoff

MONTREAL (AP) — Clarence Campbell, president of the National Hockey League, said Monday the league's governors will probably take action at the annual meeting in June to change the system for determining playoff positions.

Campbell commented in the wake of an uproar over the tactics used in Sunday's windup games by New York and Montreal, who were deadlocked for the fourth and final playoff spot in the NHL Eastern Division.

Under NHL rules teams tied in game points at the end of the season break the tie by comparing their goals scored records.

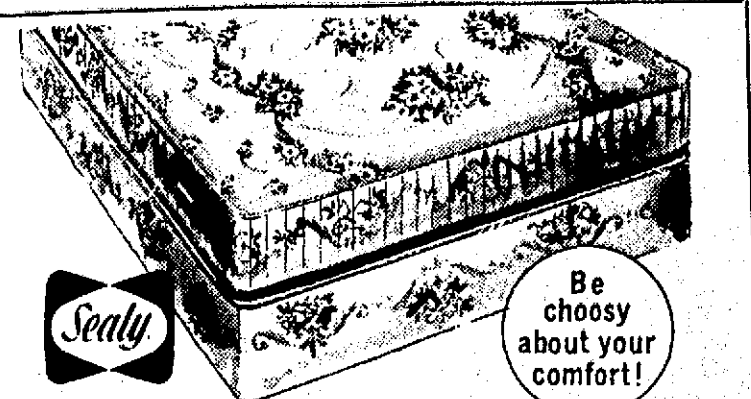

New York won the playoff spot but the Rangers pulled goalie Ed Giacomin in an attempt to pile up goals against Detroit even though it would have meant giving up goals to the Red Wings. Montreal did the same thing later Sunday in an effort to outscore New York. "The clubs were doing the right thing under existing regulations," said Campbell. "It is up to the governors to make any changes."

He said he would include his thoughts on the subject in a report to the governors in June. The NHL president suggested one solution might be to adopt a system similar to the Canadian Football League, which breaks ties by considering the record of games between the deadlocked teams. If that fails, the CFL considers the scoring offense and scoring defense records between the teams in question and as a last resort, the over-all points scored and yielded.

Giants Sign Draft Choice

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Giants of the National Football League said Monday they had signed their No. 1 draft choice, linebacker Jim Files of Oklahoma, for an undisclosed amount.

MAVERICK $1995*...it's a little gas.

*Ford's suggested retail price for the base Maverick model. White sidewall tires are not included, they are $30 extra. Since dealer preparation charges (if any), transportation charges and state and local taxes vary, they are not included, nor is extra equipment that is specially required by state laws.

Our little Maverick is America's best selling small car. The reason is simple—solid value. Maverick is simple to drive. Turn on the engine and you turn loose the power of 105 horses. Yet Maverick rivals the economy imports in gas mileage. Simple to park. Maverick can U-turn in a tighter circle than the leading import. Simple to service. Maverick requires fewer oil changes, fewer chassis lubrications. You save time and money. Simple to repair. The Maverick Owner's Manual has 24 pages of instruction for routine maintenance jobs you can do yourself. Simple to own. Save right from the start—the Simple Machine is your Ford Dealer's lowest priced car.

For a little more...it's a GRABBER!

The new Maverick Grabber has all the same features as our Simple Machine but we've added an extra sporty flare to it. Here's what Grabber gives you: 1 Racy bodyside tape stripes, choice of five hot Grabber colors, 14-in. whitewall tires and wheel trim rings. High excitement, yes. High price, no. 2 200 CID Six and 3-speed fully synchronized manual transmission. Lots of pep, but not hard to tune. Grabber adds to your fun, not your mechanical problems. 3 Dual racing mirrors. But no high "muscle car" insurance rates. 4 Three-spoke woodgrained steering wheel just like the racing cars. But no hard, stiff ride. Grabber's sprung for comfort, not for the track. 5 Black-painted hood and grille. Grabber puts on a great front, but maintenance costs are low. Service is fast and simple. With lots you can do yourself. 6 Rear deck-lid spoiler. Even an economy car can dream, can't it?

MAVERICK

THE NEW MAVERICK GRABBER IS AT YOUR FORD DEALER'S NOW.

For more information about Maverick, see your Ford Dealer or write: Maverick Catalog, Dept. N-21, P.O. Box 1503, Dearborn, Michigan 48121.

LEGAL NOTICE
NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL BONDS
Blevins School District No. 2 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, hereby gives notice that it will sell on auction bids on the date specified below its proposed issue of $130,000 Construction School Bonds, to be dated May 1, 1970, with interest to be payable semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of each year, commencing February 1, 1971, and maturing serially on February 1 of each year, as follows:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1972	$ 3,000
1973	3,000
1974	4,000
1975	4,000
1976	4,000
1977	5,000
1978	5,000
1979	5,000
1980	6,000
1981	6,000
1982	6,000
1983	7,000
1984	7,000
1985	8,000
1986	8,000
1987	9,000
1988	9,000
1989	10,000
1990	10,000
1991	11,000

The bonds were approved by the electors of the District at the annual school election on March 10, 1970 and at said election a continuing annual building fund tax of 13 mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property of the District was voted for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds until paid in full. The bonds will be general obligations of the School District secured by the District's full faith, credit and resources. They will be primarily payable from said building fund tax, but in addition, the bonds will be secured by a pledge of all revenue that the District can legally pledge including the annual surplus derived each year from the building fund taxes previously voted for bonds now outstanding. The surplus arising each year from the District's building fund taxes, after providing for principal and interest maturing that year and the next six months' interest on all the District's outstanding bonds, may be used by the District for calling bonds for payment prior to maturity or for other school purposes. The assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the District, according to the 1969 assessment is $1,585,475. The purchases may name the trustee and paying agent. All expenses of the issue, including the printing and trusteeing of the bonds and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued will be paid by T.J. Raney & Sons, Little Rock, Arkansas, the District's fiscal agent. Neither supplemental nor dual coupons will be permitted but the purchases will have the privilege of converting the bonds to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the District receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted, with any conversion to be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the District and of the Commissioner of Education of the State of Arkansas. In addition, the following conversion conditions shall be applicable:
(1) The average maturities cannot be shortened by more than six months.
(2) The converted schedule shall contain not more than four shares of interest (not counting the same rate of interest that is repeated for different maturities); and
(3) The difference between the lowest rate of interest in the converted schedule and the rate bid must not be greater than 1 per cent.
The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity, at the option of the District, in whole or in part, in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus proceeds of said building fund tax on any interest paying date; from funds from any source on any interest paying date on and after February 1, 1975.
No bid of less than par and accrued interest will be entertained. Only one rate of interest shall be bid at a time, and the award, if made, will be made to the bidder who bids the lowest rate of interest.
The bonds will be sold upon auction bids at 3:00 o'clock P.M. on the 21st day of April, 1970.

Blevins School District No. 2 of Hempstead County, Arkansas, hereby gives notice that it will sell on auction bids on the date specified below its proposed issue of $130,000 Construction School Bonds, to be dated May 1, 1970, with interest to be payable semiannually on February 1 and August 1 of each year, commencing February 1, 1971, and maturing serially on February 1 of each year, as follows:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1972	$ 3,000
1973	3,000
1974	4,000
1975	4,000
1976	4,000
1977	5,000
1978	5,000
1979	5,000
1980	6,000
1981	6,000
1982	6,000
1983	7,000
1984	7,000
1985	8,000
1986	8,000
1987	9,000
1988	9,000
1989	10,000
1990	10,000
1991	11,000

The bonds were approved by the electors of the District at the annual school election on March 10, 1970 and at said election a continuing annual building fund tax of 13 mills on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property of the District was voted for the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds until paid in full. The bonds will be general obligations of the School District secured by the District's full faith, credit and resources. They will be primarily payable from said building fund tax, but in addition, the bonds will be secured by a pledge of all revenue that the District can legally pledge including the annual surplus derived each year from the building fund taxes previously voted for bonds now outstanding. The surplus arising each year from the District's building fund taxes, after providing for principal and interest maturing that year and the next six months' interest on all the District's outstanding bonds, may be used by the District for calling bonds for payment prior to maturity or for other school purposes. The assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the District, according to the 1969 assessment is $1,585,475. The purchases may name the trustee and paying agent. All expenses of the issue, including the printing and trusteeing of the bonds and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued will be paid by T.J. Raney & Sons, Little Rock, Arkansas, the District's fiscal agent. Neither supplemental nor dual coupons will be permitted but the purchases will have the privilege of converting the bonds to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the District receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted, with any conversion to be subject to the approval of the Board of Directors of the District and of the Commissioner of Education of the State of Arkansas. In addition, the following conversion conditions shall be applicable:
(1) The average maturities cannot be shortened by more than six months.
(2) The converted schedule shall contain not more than four shares of interest (not counting the same rate of interest that is repeated for different maturities); and
(3) The difference between the lowest rate of interest in the converted schedule and the rate bid must not be greater than 1 per cent.
The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity, at the option of the District, in whole or in part, in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus proceeds of said building fund tax on any interest paying date; from funds from any source on any interest paying date on and after February 1, 1975.
No bid of less than par and accrued interest will be entertained. Only one rate of interest shall be bid at a time, and the award, if made, will be made to the bidder who bids the lowest rate of interest.
The bonds will be sold upon auction bids at 3:00 o'clock P.M. on the 21st day of April, 1970.

Removal of Spleen Normal Purpura Control

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—My sister has idiopathic thrombocytopenic purpura. Her spleen was removed many years ago. That helped at first, then the trouble came back. Now, after taking cortisone for several years, she is the victim of its side effects. What can be done for her?

A—In this disease bleeding occurs under the skin with little or no trauma. In most persons whose purpura is not controlled by cortisone or removal of the spleen, azathioprine (Imuran), a prescription drug, has proved successful.

Q—My daughter, 23, gets blue marks on her body at the slightest knock. This has happened only in the last year. What could cause it? Is there any cure for it?

A—She may have purpura, but of a different type from that referred to in the preceding query. It may be caused by a sensitivity to any of a number of drugs—the sulfonamides, streptomycin, quinacrine, pyrimethamine, trimethadione, several of the tranquilizers, triphenylamine, potassium chlorate, digloxin, gold salts, phenylbutazone, colchicine and many others. The only effective treatment is to find and eliminate the drug or other allergen responsible.

Q—What causes pinpoint red spots to appear all over my body?

A—A few scattered spots may be seen in persons who are over 40 and are in good health. They are of no significance. You should, however, have an examination to rule out a vitamin C deficiency, a anemia or purpura caused by taking any of the drugs listed above.

Q—Has medical science found a way to build up muscles that have become atrophied following poliomyelitis?

A—Muscles weakened by poliomyelitis

Q—How did the black widow spider receive its name?
A—The name originally applied to the female, refers to her practice of eating the male; the young also devour one another. The name now applies to both male and female.
Q—The membership of which House of Congress is permanently fixed by the Constitution?
A—The Constitution fixes Senate membership, unalterably at two senators for each State.

Measles Pose Threat to Apollo Flight

By HOWARD BENEDICT
AP Aerospace Writer
CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Medical specialists hurried blood tests on the Apollo 13 astronauts today to determine whether their exposure to German measles is going to delay a $375 million shot to the moon.

James A. Lovell Jr., Thomas K. Mattingly II and Fred W. Haise Jr. have been exposed to what is usually a childhood ailment but is now carried by one of their backup pilots, astronaut Charles Duke.

If tests show the immunity of any of the three is low, their chief physician probably will recommend that they not be launched to the moon on Saturday as scheduled.

Even if their immunity is high, doctors will be faced with a tough decision.

There is no medical experience in the progress of such a disease in a spacecraft environment.

Dr. Charles A. Berry, medical director for Houston's Manned Spacecraft Center, said: "We certainly would be concerned about launching them if there was a possibility they could develop the disease during the mission. It certainly could disable them during the flight."

If the launching is postponed, Lovell, Mattingly and Haise would have to wait a month for their moon trip. Saturday is the only favorable launch day in April for their intended landing area in the Fra Mauro Highlands. The next opportunity is May 9.

Delay would be costly. When the Apollo 9 launch was postponed three days last year because of astronaut colds, the space agency estimated the extra cost of the mission at $500,000.

Disclosure that Duke had German measles, known medically as rubella, was made Monday. He had reported his condition to medical authorities Sunday night.

Officials said it was not known how or when Duke was exposed.

But the prime crew continued to practice in spaceship simulators, following a schedule that assumes a launching Saturday.

Blood samples of all crewmen were flown to Houston for comparison with samples taken 25 days ago. This and other data should help doctors determine just how immune the spacemen are to German measles. The specialists hoped to have the answer by Wednesday.

Lovell, through his 4-year-old son Jeffrey, also was exposed last week to the more infectious red measles. Immunity tests also were being made for this variety.

Berry said all three of the prime crew had cases of red measles in the past, which normally would confer immunity to that disease. But two said they had not had German measles and the third was not sure.

Berry said there was an outside possibility Duke did not have German measles and that he might be affected by one of the viruses which have similar symptoms: fever, general aching, sore throat and a pink rash.

The paper charged that Dr. Carl Reng, ASU president; Dr. N. D. Hazelbaker, vice president of student affairs, and Dr. O. P. James, dean of the college of liberal arts, "have been suppressing freedom on this campus for too long."

"It is time students in this institution stop paying for the tactics that these men employ against members of the faculty who stray from their vague conceptions of what an education should be," the paper said.

The paper, which had no advertising, was devoted entirely to the controversy at the campus and contained reprints of newspaper articles and editorials on the situation.

In another development, the ASU Committee of the Jonesboro Chamber of Commerce framed a resolution commending the school and the Board of Trustees for its action "during times fraught with difficulties and misunderstanding."

The resolution said: "Nations and states and universities must be governed by laws and regulations. It is contrary to public interest for any person, group or groups to overthrow or contravene the orderly process of law. We commended the Board of Trustees and the administration of ASU for adherence to this principle during times fraught with difficulties and misunderstanding."

Pilot Talks Youth Out of Hijacking

By JOHN HANNA
Associated Press Writer
PITTSBURGH (AP) — For more than a quarter of an hour, pilot John Bybee of Trans World Airlines flew his Boeing 707 while attempting to calm a nervous young man who stood behind him waving a gun.

"He was very disoriented and not at all sure what he wanted to do," said Bybee, 42, of Danville, Calif., when it was all over Monday. He said the gunman apparently thought the San Francisco to Pittsburgh flight was bound for Boston and he "definitely did not want to go to Boston."

Bybee said the man, identified by the FBI as Lynn L. Little, 22, of McKeesport, Pa., forced his way into the cabin while the plane was over western Nebraska.

"He was nervous and waving the gun around," Bybee said. "We calmed him by telling him we would go to Pittsburgh. He seemed to have the impression someone was out to get him and kill him. We told him we'd let him out the back of the plane so whoever it was wouldn't harm him."

"He finally believed we were really going to Pittsburgh and put the gun in his pocket. Then he finally gave me the gun and I secreted it in the cabin where he couldn't find it again."

Bybee said the other 59 passengers on the plane were unaware of what was happening in the cockpit.

When the plane landed FBI agents took the gunman into custody without incident.

Underground Newspaper Wants Boycott

The paper called for a mass demonstration Wednesday or Thursday, a mass boycott of classes and an economic boycott of Reng Center on the campus.

The Ad Hoc Committee was formed to protest the Board of Trustees' decision not to renew

Endless Choice, No Compulsion:
Such a Press Cannot Be All Bad

In some degree the American press (all kinds) is guilty as charged of nearly everything in the book. It is rich, powerful, influential, arrogant, myopic, opinionated, trivial, tiresome, sensational, rude, quarrelsome, etc. Name it. Somewhere the charge is bound to stick. But with all of this, some slight case might be made in the defense of this press.

When the Vice President levels his blunderbuss at the networks, where does one read and hear about it? Why, in the press, of course.

When the press, in ruffled dignity, strikes back, how is this fact conveyed to the breathless spectators? By the press. What else?

When this bristling confrontation erupts into something approaching a constitutional crisis, where is the play-by-play account readily available to anyone in the least concerned? In column after column of print and hour after hour of video exposure, the sum of them running into millions of words.

And all of this takes place in a rather special set of circumstances which are so unusual that they are often unnoticed: Those who do not like Eric Sevareid can turn him off and turn on with Spiro Agnew.

Those who cannot stomach the New York Times can cancel and subscribe to the Chicago Tribune.

And for those who are bored with these alternatives, as any purely dispassionate observer might be, one more remains. They can go off somewhere by themselves and curl up with a good book. Here, too, the American press spreads a feast remarkable for its abundance and variety.

SOLEMN CONCLUSION: The American press which affords so many people so many options, including the option to ignore it, with so few compulsions, cannot be all bad.—Charleston (W. Va.) Daily Mail

Beautiful Weather in Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Beautiful spring weather was expected to continue over Arkansas through Wednesday.

The Weather Bureau said that a massive high pressure ridge continued to dominate the state's weather.

The high pressure system should drift eastward today and tonight and slowly weaken as another storm system begins to affect the state from the west by late Wednesday, the bureau said.

The new storm system, the bureau said, was in the form of a low pressure system and an associated cold front which was swinging southeastward through the northern Rockies earlier today.

The bureau said that the system should bring increasing cloudiness to the state by Wednesday afternoon and a threat of rain by Wednesday and Thursday.

Highs Monday ranged from 71 at Harrison to 82 at Pine Bluff. Overnight lows included 35 at Fayetteville, 45 at Harrison and Fort Smith, 44 at Jonesboro, 48 at Pine Bluff, 51 at Texarkana, 43 at El Dorado and Little Rock and 40 at Memphis.

No precipitation was reported in the 24-hour period that ended at 7 a.m. today.

Envoy Exodus Threat to Guatemala

GUATEMALA (AP) — Guatemala is threatened with an exodus of ambassadors in the wake of the terrorist slaying of Count Karl von Sprell, the West German envoy.

Msr. Gerolamo Prigione, the papal nuncio and dean of the diplomatic corps, said Monday night that nearly 70 per cent of the ambassadors "have said they are seriously considering asking their governments to reassign them or withdraw them from Guatemala."

Von Sprell was kidnapped last Tuesday by four members of the anti-government Rebel Armed Forces, or FAR, and was found shot to death Sunday night in a mud hut outside Guatemala City. The government had refused to meet the kidnappers' demands for the release of 22 jailed FAR members and $700,000 in ransom money.

The West German government in retaliation announced it would withdraw the rest of its embassy staff and indicated Guatemala's ambassador to West Germany, Antonio Gandara, was no longer welcome in Bonn.

An army spokesman said special protection was being given to all ambassadors.

The army continued its search for Von Sprell's abductors, patrolling streets and making house-to-house searches under the 30-day state of siege declared by President Julio Cesar Mendez Montenegro following the kidnapping. But there was no indication that the arrest of the kidnappers was near.

Countess von Sprell spent Monday at the funeral home beside her 63-year-old husband's body, which lay in a cedar casket surrounded by huge wreaths.

The body was to be transferred today to the National Palace to lie in state there until it is returned to West Germany.

Mendez Montenegro declared three days of national mourning and wrote West German Chancellor Willy Brandt that his government had done everything it could to achieve the ambassador's release. The government said to release the prisoners would violate the constitution.

Brandt, visiting the United States, said earlier that the Guatemalan government had shown itself "unable to give accredited diplomatic representatives the necessary security."

He and President Nixon planned to discuss possible ways of dealing with international terrorism when they meet in Washington later this week.

Shame That Only War, Common Danger Bring Out the Best in Men

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — William Wyler still takes a wistful pride in the $60-a-month disability payment he gets from Uncle Sam for damage to his right ear while filming high altitude scenes as a combat photographer during World War II.

"It's a shame that only war and common danger bring out the best in men," he said.

But at 67 Wyler, a landmark Hollywood director and producer whose films have accounted for 40 Oscars and 140 Academy Award nominations, is still trying himself to bring out the best in men.

"It is my philosophy that a man should stand up for something," he said. "I like to make entertaining pictures, but I also get great satisfaction out of making a film that hopefully can contribute something to the improvement of our society."

Right now he is hopeful that his latest film, "The Liberation of L.B. Jones," a drama of lust and revenge, will help the plight of the Negro in the South.

A careful craftsman who takes two years or more to complete a picture, Wyler has been remarkably successful in turning out films that ring the cash register whether they are pure entertainments or also carry a message.

Carswell's Foes Plan 5 Million for Senate Fight After Windfall for State Schools

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Foes of Judge G. Harrold Carswell's Supreme Court nomination zeroed in today on a handful of senators they say hold the key to reversing an initial setback in the bitter Senate fight.

Although losing 52 to 44 in a first-round vote Monday, the opposition maintained they still have a chance to defeat confirmation of the 50-year-old Tallahassee, Fla., judge in Wednesday's showdown vote.

But Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania and other key supporters said they are confident Carswell will be confirmed, although they conceded a tight margin.

Sen. Clifford P. Case of New Jersey, one of eight Republicans who voted to send the nomination back to the Judiciary Committee, told a newsman opponents can block confirmation if they get the vote of Arkansas Democrat J. W. Fulbright.

Fulbright, who voted to return the nomination to committee, had said he would review the situation before deciding how to vote on confirmation.

The vote Monday on Indiana Democrat Birch Bayh's motion to recommit the nomination, and thus kill it, was not necessarily conclusive because three senators who voted against it—Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., Hiram L. Fong, R-Hawaii, and Robert W. Packwood, R-Ore.—already had announced they would vote against confirmation.

And a number of other senators, some of whom voted on both sides of the recommitment question, had declined to say how they stand on the showdown vote.

Brandt Cites Danger in Pulling Troops

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

EL PASO, TEX. (AP) — West German Chancellor Willy Brandt says substantial U.S. troop withdrawals from Europe—as demanded in some quarters in Washington—would endanger the chances for reducing East-West tensions and negotiating a mutual troop cutback with Russia.

In an interview with the Associated Press shortly before leaving for Washington talks with President Nixon, Brandt said:

"... If we are going to try to find out, in close contact with each other (within the NATO alliance), if there are possibilities to reduce tensions in Europe between the East and the West, then we might do harm to these activities by introducing the element of unilateral weakening of the Western position."

Brandt also said he thought the U.S. and West Germany should not wait too long to open talks on "burden-sharing" between themselves and among the allies on the cost of maintaining the U.S. forces of 31,000 troops in Europe, stationed almost entirely in West Germany.

He called for the closest consultations among all the NATO allies on European defense policy before any troop cut, however small, is made.

Excerpts from the interview: Q. Does the NATO defense system in your judgment require a continued high level of U.S. troop strength in Europe?

A. I think the situation does not permit any serious weaken-

Administration Pulls Surprise in Minimum Income for Poor Issue

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration sprang perhaps its biggest surprise when it sponsored what amounts to a federally assured minimum income for the poor of the nation.

This is the heart of the welfare reform bill the House is scheduled to begin debating Wednesday—and is expected to pass, despite a belated campaign led by the U.S. Chamber of Commerce to defeat it, primarily on the ground that it is too expensive.

Some congressional Democrats, among others, speculated that a conservative Republican administration could not have thought seriously the $4.4 billion bill would be enacted—the Democratic-controlled Congress would reject it and be saddened with the responsibility for continuing the present almost universally deployed welfare system.

But the record of how the family assistance plan slowly matured and was embraced by the administration, after considerable internal debate, gives no support to such speculation.

And when the bill came to its first test—before a dubious House Ways and Means Committee—Health, Education and Welfare Department officials argued long and hard for it, dispelling any idea the administration had tossed out the proposal to swim, or preferably sink.

As it turned out, the committee approved the bill, substantially intact, 22 to 3, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills, a staunch fiscal conservative, announced his personal support at the last minute and scoffed publicly at the idea the House would turn down a measure in behalf of the elderly, the disabled and the poor.

On its way from the academy's studies to Congress, via the White House, the idea of an as-

School Desegregation Resistance Mounting; Conference Is Called

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary Robert H. Finch of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare set a goal today of doubling the present amount of school desegregation in the South by next fall.

That would have 80 per cent of the area's Negro children attending essentially desegregated schools.

"We're striking for dramatic results," Finch said at a news conference.

Finch and his civil rights chief, J. Stanley Pottinger, indicated generally that President Nixon's recent message on school desegregation would change their department's policies very little.

Pottinger read the President's message "as a clear mandate to bring into compliance all school districts which discriminate against children on the basis of race, color or national origin."

Finch said the department's

2 American Bombers Are Shot Down

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down in eastern Laos Monday while across the border in South Vietnam government troops reported 496 North Vietnamese killed in fighting around the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp. There was no sign of any letup in the siege, now in its seventh day.

A propeller-driven A1 was downed in the Plain of Jars, presumably during an attack on North Vietnamese forces who wrested control of the area from Laotian government forces in late February. An F100 jet was shot down in the southern Laotian panhandle, through which the Ho Chi Minh trail carries North Vietnamese supplies and troops to South Vietnam.

One pilot was killed and the other rescued unhurt, the U.S. Command said.

At Dak Seang, eight miles east of the Laotian border and 277 miles northeast of Saigon, "the situation continues to be critical with no apparent letup in sight," a report from U.S. pilots on the scene said.

The 496 North Vietnamese reported killed there was one of the highest tolls for a single engagement in the war, but the continuing enemy resistance and the fact that only 10 enemy weapons were found on the battlefield raised considerable doubts about the accuracy of the South Vietnamese claim.

The fighting was triggered by sweeps outside the camp by two South Vietnamese ranger battalions and civilian irregulars led by U.S. Green Berets. The total

Finch and his civil rights chief, J. Stanley Pottinger, indicated generally that President Nixon's recent message on school desegregation would change their department's policies very little.

Pottinger read the President's message "as a clear mandate to bring into compliance all school districts which discriminate against children on the basis of race, color or national origin."

Finch said the department's

2 American Bombers Are Shot Down

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Two U.S. fighter-bombers were shot down in eastern Laos Monday while across the border in South Vietnam government troops reported 496 North Vietnamese killed in fighting around the besieged Dak Seang Special Forces camp. There was no sign of any letup in the siege, now in its seventh day.

A propeller-driven A1 was downed in the Plain of Jars, presumably during an attack on North Vietnamese forces who wrested control of the area from Laotian government forces in late February. An F100 jet was shot down in the southern Laotian panhandle, through which the Ho Chi Minh trail carries North Vietnamese supplies and troops to South Vietnam.

One pilot was killed and the other rescued unhurt, the U.S. Command said.

At Dak Seang, eight miles east of the Laotian border and 277 miles northeast of Saigon, "the situation continues to be critical with no apparent letup in sight," a report from U.S. pilots on the scene said.

The 496 North Vietnamese reported killed there was one of the highest tolls for a single engagement in the war, but the continuing enemy resistance and the fact that only 10 enemy weapons were found on the battlefield raised considerable doubts about the accuracy of the South Vietnamese claim.

The fighting was triggered by sweeps outside the camp by two South Vietnamese ranger battalions and civilian irregulars led by U.S. Green Berets. The total

Over a night-time record show from WSB in Atlanta, Ga., Mrs. Jim Smith of Hope was a recent winner of a record album.

It may be Spring in Southwest Arkansas, but such is not the case in Overland Park, Kan. (suburb of Kansas City) where a Mo. Ark. District Convention of the Key Club was held this past weekend.

E. P. Young, Jr., Bill Butler, George Frazier and 15 local Key Clubbers reported snow Friday night!

Congratulations to Randy Wright, newly elected member-at-large in the state Future Teachers of America, he is the only male officer and was sponsored by the Hope Chapter at the state convention April 4 in Conway.

Congressman John Paul Ham-merschmidt announced that his district assistant, Archie Lantz, will be in Hope Wednesday, April

Fight on for Control of Fla. Schools

By ERIC SHARP
Associated Press Writer

BRADENTON, Fla. (AP) — Armed with a federal court order, Dr. Jack Davidson fought today for control of Manatee County schools seized by Gov. Claude R. Kirk Jr. to block a desegregation decree.

Kirk was ordered by U.S. District Court Judge Ben Krentzman to appear in his Tampa court to show cause why he should not be held in contempt for interfering.

Davidson, temporarily suspended as superintendent Sunday by Kirk, conferred at the superintendent's office with Kirk aides, Dr. William Meloy and Dick Warner, and Betty Rushmore, president of the school board.

Kirk had showed up at school board offices Monday before classes began and ordered teachers and pupils to defy the court-ordered integration. They obeyed.

If Kirk declared himself to still hold the reins of authority over the 17,000-pupil system, Davidson said he would so inform Judge Krentzman.

Krentzman has ordered Kirk to immediately step down as head of this Gulf Coast county school system and to appear before him later today.

"That's what I wanted, to be in a federal court," Kirk said Monday when he learned of the judge's order.

Judge Krentzman's integration order called for the busing of an additional 2,600 students and transfer of 107 teachers to achieve an 80-20 white-black ratio in all schools.

Kirk said Judge Krentzman was insensitive to the problems he created in ordering "a horrible, illegal act of forced busing" just 45 days before the end of the school term.

Judge Krentzman's order was upheld last Friday—without comment—by the Supreme Court.

Expansion of RCD Includes Hempstead

Congressman John Paul Ham-merschmidt today advised the Star that the Dept. of Agriculture is expected to announce within the next 24 hours the expansion of a Resource Conservation and Development project to include Hempstead County and nine other counties in Southwest Arkansas.

Two basic counties in operation since last July are Little River and Sevier. Those in addition to these three counties are: Nevada, Howard, Calhoun, Columbia, Dallas, Lafayette, Union, Miller and Ouachita.

This entire area will now share technical and financial assistance from the Dept. of Agriculture in development of measures related to water-sheds, conservation land treatment, on-the-job training, recreation facilities, beautification, wood product market expansion and other objectives planned by people in the locality.

The expansion, which covers 5,144,315 acres, was requested by the county Judges, conservation districts, Southwest Economic District and the rural development authorities of Little River and Sevier counties.

Rep. Murphy Guilty of Assault

HAMBURG, Ark. (AP) — State Rep. N. B. "Nap" Murphy of Hamburg was found guilty Monday of assault and battery in an altercation last month with Ashley County Tax Assessor James Sullivan.

Acting Municipal Judge W. B. Switzer fined Murphy $10 and court costs ($10.50). Municipal Judge Herman Hamilton, who testified for Murphy, disqualified himself.

Switzer held that the fact that Murphy hit Sullivan was undisputed. The incident occurred in Sullivan's office in the Ashley County Courthouse.
